

Application for permission to use a legally protected professional designation

under the Act on the Legal Status of Certain Professional Designations in the Fields of Technology and Design, No. 8/1996, with subsequent amendments, other than the designations 'master electrician' and 'dental technician'.

The Act on the Legal Status of Certain Professional Designations in the Fields of Technology and Design, No. 8/1996, covers degree engineers, diploma engineers, architects, building technicians, furniture and interior designers (or parts of this designation), tradesmen and master craftsmen, landscape architects, city planners, master electricians, computer scientists and graphic designers. Those who have completed a BS/BSc degree or master's degree in Computer Science are not required to obtain permission from the minister to use the professional designation 'computer scientist'. Those who have completed a BA degree or master's degree in Graphic Design from a recognised Icelandic third-level institution, and also the final examination in Graphic Design from the Icelandic School of Arts and Crafts or the School of Fine Arts in Akureyri, are also not required to obtain permission from the minister to use the professional designation 'graphic designer'.
