Why competency-based interviews (CBI)?

• Competencies are forward-looking; they describe skills and attributes that staff and managers need to build human capital and meet future challenges.

• Competencies help organizations clarify expectations and define future development needs.

• CBI questions ask about past professional experiences that can demonstrate that the applicant is competent.

• The theory is that if you can demonstrate that you have done it in the past or have learned from the past, chances are that you will be able to do it in the future.

• When assessing the applicants’ responses, panels will ascertain the depth and complexity of the responses given by applicants.

• CBI is sometimes referred to as behavioral or situational interviewing.
CAR (L) Principle

- Context:
  - You will be expected to give an overview of the situation: what the situation was about, how you first got involved, what were the key events and the time frame

- Actions
  - You will be expected to cover significant events, specific instances, that were clearly attributable to you rather than the team

- Results
  - What was the outcome, impact or results of your actions: You may be asked questions such as how did it turn out? What was the final result?

- Learning
  - What did you learn from this experience?
Preparing and Practicing

• Be flexible and non-demanding with timing

• Prepare for the interview:
  o learn as much as you can about the organization (mandate, publications, organigram, strategic directions, news, etc.)
  o understand the position and look at the competencies in the job opening
  o review your application/PHP and select real examples matching your accomplishments to the competencies (i.e. how did you work in a team, solve conflict, mobilize resources, etc.)

• Practice, practice, practice beforehand (refer to your application and the requirements of the job opening)

• If invited to an interview:
  o face-to face, know what you are going to wear and err on the side of conservatism
  o telephone (or Skype/VTC) make sure you are in a private location and equipment is working
During the interview: do

• Make a good first and last impression
• Dress appropriately
• Maintain eye contact with the person who asked the question, if culturally appropriate
• Even on the telephone, smile
• Listen carefully to the complete question. Ask for clarification if a question is not clear
• Keep to the point. Be as specific as possible
• Provide concrete examples that show you were able to handle a situation and/or learned from it
During the interview: do not

- Answer in the hypothetical
- Talk about “we”, rather talk in the “I”
- Espouse theories or values (“waffling on”)
- Make blanket generalizations nor statements about the future
- Interrupt the panel
- Ask questions about benefits and entitlements
